

The Meeting Page.

Print the next page. Put it next to your keyboard. Bring any pen to your next call. You don't have to draw anything. Half of it is already drawn. You only add marks.

Start.

Pick one shape. Trace its edge while you listen. No planning required.

Explore.

When the meeting drags, hatch a shape with short parallel lines. Cross it. Shade it. Break the pattern.

Make it yours.

Call's over? Color it. Add something that wasn't there. Or stop halfway and come back tomorrow.
